OBSERV 520X

Skin Analysis – Do you really know your skin?

The skin is much more complex than what can be seen with the naked eye – that's why we use the Observ 520x for professional skin analysis. With advanced analysis technology we can view blemishes, fine lines, dryness and uneven skin tone in depth. This allows us to better understand your unique skin concerns to treat existing imperfections, and even address underlying concerns before they become visible.

What will it show me?

Get ready to face the facts on the true state of your skin! The Observ 520x will examine:

- Wrinkles and fine lines – including ones you can't even see yet!
- The sebum (oil) content of your skin, which can contribute to acne and blemishes
- Pigmentation – closely assess the severity of freckles, sun spots and age spots
- The true size of your pores – determines if enlarged pores are a problem for your skin
- The moisture content of your skin. Skin dehydration is a serious age-contributing factor!
- Loss of skin firmness. Is your skin ageing well, or losing elasticity at a rapid rate?
- Your skin tone your overall skin health
